Summary

I'm a versatile professional with a unique background in both operational leadership and information technology. I excel at leading teams, with a proven ability to manage and mentor crews of over 60 people. My experience in operations is complemented by a strong technical foundation in IT, where I've successfully streamlined workflows and conducted meticulous quality assurance on over 40 websites daily. My core strength is my ability to connect the dots between big-picture goals and the small details, making me a highly adaptable problem-solver.
